

Honeybee Health Improvement Project

The Honeybee Health Improvement Project will focus on ways to help honeybees and beekeepers. In the absence of Colony Collapse Disorder, this task force will seek out and secure funding for innovative and important work to understand and promote genetic stock improvements, understand and promote best management practices for commercial bee keeping, and promote forage opportunities for colonies on public and private land.

Honey Bee Health NAPPC Task Force

Laurie Adams	Coevolution Institute/NAPPC
May Berenbaum	University of Illinois
Nicholas Calderone	Cornell University
Dewey Caron	University of Delaware
Christine Elski	Georgetown University
Wayne Esaias	Oceanographer
Diana Cox Foster	Pennsylvania State University
Christina Grozinger*	North Carolina State University
G.W. (Jerry) Hayes	Apiary Inspectors of America
Douglas Holy	USDA - Natural Resources Conservation Service
Eric Mussen	University of California, Davis
Jeff Pettis	Research Leader, USDA-ARS Bee Research Lab
Gene Robinson	Univarsity of Illinois
Colin Stewart	USDA APHIS PPQ
Barry H. Thompson*	Thompson Apiaries, LLC
Daniel Weaver*	Bee Weaver Apiaries, Inc.
Wayne Wehling	USDA APHIS PPQ

*Co-Chairs